Evidence has been received that (name client) is a member of the Vice Lords. This evidence was received only with respect to (name client's) possible motive to commit the crime alleged, and you may consider it for that purpose. You may not consider this evidence to conclude that (name client) has a certain character or a certain character trait and that (name client) acted in conformity with that trait or character with respect to the offense charged in this case. It is not to be used to conclude that (name client) is a bad person and for that reason is guilty of the offense charged.
